

Foz lechery. B Agaynst bzēnyng of lechery by use this herbe and lay it to the coddēs and it wyll quenche the heet.

De eufragia eufrace. Ca. C. lxxiiij.

Eufragia is an herbe the some cai lu minelle. It hath fyue vertues. The fyrst for the reednesse and dynnesse of the eyen/and for these thynges it must be gadzed of hym that is dyseased and than put to drye/and the reednesse and payne wyll go away.

Foz the syght. B
The seconde yf the rote & leues be steped oz loked in wyne and the pacyent drynke the wyne/it wyll clere the syght.

Foz the stone. B
The thyrde it wyll bzeke the stone yf it rote and the iuce be medled with an her-be called Gramen yf it be dzonken.

Foz cardyake passyon C
The fourthe yf eufragye and buglosse be egally medled in oyle olyue it helpeth the cardyake passyon. Che. b. Take water of eufragye styllēd and put therro the thyrde parte of bygne water/soo that there be an yncc of bothe and a dragme of thutie of alexandry well quenched/and of these togider a droppe put in too the eyes helpeth the syght.

Agaynst the fallynge eyll. C.
And yf in the sayde water composed of the sayde two waters be lodē w a dragme of castoreum. It wolde be a meruaylous thyngē agaynst the fallynge eyll and is a specyally ppozete. These thynges sayth Arystotle in y quātyte of vertues of thyn-ges. Mayster Peter of spayne that was a solempnell clerke sayth that yf eufragye be medled with fenell/ rne/ veruayne/ celydony/ bethony/ and capilli veneris/ and all togyder it helpeth meruaylously to preserue and conforzte the syght/ and wasteth the reednesse and payne of the eyen.

This endeth the names of herbes begynnynge in. E.

And begynneth the names of herbes that do begyn with. F.

De flamula. Spertwozde. Ca. C. lxxix

Fig. 53. P. TREVERIS. 93 TEXTURA (1525) with s³, v³, w^{3b}, y², and a plain capital T with a short tail.
 The grete herball. 1529. S.T.C. 13177.